COMMISSIONERS DRAW JURY FOR JANUARY COURT TERM.

Jail Cases To Be Tried On Criminal Docket and Solicitor Schenck Will Be State's Prosecutor.

The commissioners of Henderson county in regular session Monday drew the jury for the two weeks of criminal and civil court to convene in Hendersonville on January 5.

Judge Cline of Catawba county will preside over this term of the court, which will dispose of the criminal cases in which the defendants are in jail, after which civil cases will be heard.

In view of the fact that the criminal docket is not heavy at present it is likely that all the criminal cases will be disposed of during the first two or three days and that no grand jury will be empaneled.

This will be the first session of criminal court in Henderson county and also the first in the eighteenth district since the appointment by Locke Craig of Hon. Michael Schenck of Hendersonville as solicitor to succeed Solicitor A. Hall Johnston of Marion, resigned. Mr. Schenck's many friends are naturally interested in the coming session in that it will afford him his first experience as prosecutor for the State, but all are confident that he will discharge his duties with distinct ability.

Following are the names of the jurors:

H. PATTERSON, CLOTHIER

H. Patterson who has been engaged in the mercantile business in Hendersonville for seven years after long service in Kentucky before coming to this city, occupies more floor space than any mercantile establishment in Hendersonville. For three years he has occupied half of the present stand. About a year ago he enlarged his store space by occupying the adjoining building thereby converting the two buildings into one large store room. Within the last few weeks he has leased the second floor of the last room occupied and has moved a large stock of goods up there, where he runs a pressing club and tailoring department. If present plans do not miscarry, Mr. Patterson will further extend his operations by enlarging in skirt manufacturing. He has the matter under consideration and it is highly probable that this addition will be made to the business. Among goods handled by Mr. Patterson exclusively in this territory and Lyon brand shirts and collars, McCall patterns, Knox brand shoes and neversail suspenders. Mr. Patterson is a faithful advocate of printers' ink and is now using in this issue of the Hustler-Democrat one of the pages of the largest contract ever signed with this paper, (considering the time in which it is to be used) to announce his holiday bargains.

THE REX PIANO.

The Rex theatre has arranged to give music on the outside in addition to that which has been given on the inside by the Erson orchestra at each of the night shows. An electric piano that carries all the parts of an up-to-date orchestra has been installed and its splendid music will doubtless add greatly to the attractiveness of the theatre. The music of the Erson orchestra will not be discontinued.

HON. W. T. CRAWFORD.

Expressions of Esteem in Which Deceased was Held by Officers.

Hon. W. T. Crawford of Waynesville who died suddenly on the night of November 16, was buried at the family burying ground on Tuesday in the presence of a large number of his friends and comrades from various sections of Western North Carolina. Floral offerings and messages of condolence were received from various parts of the country, showing the high esteem in which he was held.

Following are expressions from Governor Locke Craig and Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman: Governor Craig said of the death of Hon. W. T. Crawford: "I am shocked to hear of the death of W. T. Crawford. I knew that he had been in poor health for some time, but I had no idea that his condition was so serious."

"He has for the last twenty years been one of the most prominent men in the state, and was always a favorite with the mountain people. He was a man of great ability, no man in our country could equal him as a joint debater in political campaigns. We could rely with implicit trust in his integrity. He was from the people and of them. He grew to intellectual stature, and was always true to the common people. They had his sympathy and never forget his allegiance to them. He represented our district in congress four times. He will be remembered as a great tribute to the people and will live in their affections and esteem."

With reference to Mr. Crawford's death Commissioner Shipman said:

"I am greatly surprised and grieved, beyond expression, to hear of former Congressman Crawford's death. My affection for him cannot be measured with words and how I shall miss him, no tongue or pen can tell. For nearly twenty-five years I have known and admired him for his sterling qualities and a passionate devotion to duty. He was incorrupt and incorruptible and the plain people never had a better friend. Truly, a great man has fallen on sleep. But his deeds will live after him and the exemplary life he led will serve as an inspiration to generations of young men yet unborn. For 20 years he has been my friend and advisor and, fortunate for me, I have trusted him implicitly. He was a safe leader because he always led wisely. The people trusted him for his innate honesty and sincerity of purpose. And he, in turn, had an abiding faith in their judgment."

"In the death of Mr. Crawford, the Democracy of the Tenth district has lost its strongest exponent. On National issues, I believe he was the best informed man in North Carolina, with the possible exception of Senator Simmons. He was strong with the masses and always ran ahead of his ticket. The district has long been debatable ground and the party lost a few times under his leadership. But when the smoke of battle cleared away and the final summing up had been completed, the name of W. T. Crawford was always found at the head of the list. I have never known him to 'bring up the rear' in any political contest in our district and whether a candidate himself he was ever found in the thickest of the fight. It was always an unfavorable year for Democracy when Mr. Crawford failed to carry the Tenth District."

W. H. HAWKINS & SON, JEWELERS

The mere mention of the fact that W. H. Hawkins and son, A. H. Hawkins, have been in business in Hendersonville since 1880 is sufficient information to establish the standing of this well-known firm in the minds of the public. Since June they have been in their new home, which was purchased by the firm and remodeled to their convenience. In addition to the jewelry business the firm specializes in optical work, the junior Mr. Hawkins and Miss Leona Allen both being registered optometrists. The firm has the exclusive agency in this territory of Pickard china, Alvin silver and Harley-Davidson motorcycles in addition to a full line of high-grade assorted jewelry, souvenirs, and jewelry and optical shop accessories, an interesting announcement of which can be found in another column of the Hustler-Democrat, in the advertising efficiency of which W. H. Hawkins & Son have long manifested their faith.

ST. JOHN IMPROVEMENTS.

For the comfort of its guests during the winter, the St. John hotel has built a partition across the lobby of the hotel in order to keep out the cold currents incident to the frequent opening of the front doors. The large dining room has also been divided and thereby will be made more comfortable during the cold season. This work will be removed on the approach of summer.

PREACHER OF OLD SCHOOL.

Dr. T. F. Glenn, who is in his seventy-sixth year, walked a distance of three miles last Sunday morning to Hyder Mountain church where he preached an excellent sermon, returning home in the afternoon of the same day. He was one of the few itinerant preachers that traveled Western North Carolina and East Tennessee horse back during the hard years following the civil war. It is believed by some that perhaps there is no one that has done more for the moral and spiritual uplift of the country than Dr. Glenn. —Clyde Cor. Waynesville Enterprise.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE O. K.

In a list of opinions delivered the Supreme court disposed of one liquor case of interest—that of State vs. Lewis Russell, from Charlotte. In this the question of the constitutionality of the legislative act making the possession of two and a half gallons of liquor prima facie evidence of guilt of selling liquor. The Supreme court sustains the lower court in the conviction of Russell and declares that this principle was settled in State vs. Barrett, 138 North Carolina reports, and in the case of State vs. Wilkerson, decided only a few weeks ago, the court holding in the latter case that seizure act, are constitutional and that the legal procedure established in such acts is valid.

RIPLEY HOUSE BURNS.

Goods of Sentimental Value Destroyed by Fire of Unknown Origin.

The house of Hal Ripley was practically destroyed by fire on Fourth avenue Saturday. The house had not been occupied for some time and the origin of the fire is unknown. It is thought that perhaps some children were playing at the house or some tramp remained over at night.

While the house was not filled with furniture, some very valuable articles were lost, among them being some heirlooms and antique furniture from the foreign country, wedding gifts and other articles of great sentimental value for which it is understood fancy prices had been refused.

The fire department is said to have made a record run, leaving the fire station and crossing Main street within a minute after the fire bell rang, but despite the quick run the blaze had made such headway it was impossible to have the house and contents.

5, 10 & 25 CENT STORE.

The 5, 10 and 25 cent store of Hendersonville is five years old and judging from the present outlook for business it is likely to remain as one of the city's permanent institutions. It was opened by A. C. Patterson, who remained in charge until about a year ago, when his business associate, J. D. Pullin, the present manager, took charge. Mr. Patterson leaving for Rock Hill, S. C., where he and Mr. Pullin operate another store somewhat similar to the one in Hendersonville. The local store has increased its stock from year to year until it is operating on a large scale and the ordinary article ranging from one to twenty-five cents can be found at this place. The volume of the firm's business is evidenced by the statement of W. J. Turner, who does most of the draying around the city and who says that he recently hauled a solid car load of goods to this store at one delivery, which he says beats all records for Hendersonville. This store carries a holiday announcement in this issue of the Hustler-Democrat and states that reductions will be made on purchases for Xmas trees, charitable purposes, etc.

VOLUNTARY ROAD WORK AT FRUITLAND ON FRIDAY.

More Good Accomplished in One Day Than in Last Ten Years by Voluntary Service.

We had a Thanksgiving road working on Friday last with the result that there was more good efficient work done in one day than has been done all put together by local help in ten years on the stretch of road from Fruitland to Uno an dthat was not all. We had the most good things to eat and the biggest crowd to eat it. More than 200 ate to their satisfaction and baskets full were left spread at Wm. Green's spring. We are in the good work and want to congratulate the Hustler-Democrat for the active part it is taking in the roads movement.

Yours with success to the Hustler-Democrat.
